Draw digits 0 through 9 randomly after all squares are claimed. Write them in the header row and column.

HOW TO PLAY

1. Pick a game. Write the team names in the header areas.
2. Each person writes their initials in any open squares until all 100 are filled.
3. After all squares are claimed, draw digits 0 through 9 randomly and write them in the header row and column.
4. Match the last digit of each team's final score to find the winning square. Check at the end of each period for extra fun.
5. The person whose initials are in the winning square gets bragging rights (or whatever your group decides).
